

Future Stars Camp - Frequently Asked Questions

Do they go to every session?

Yes, each participant is invited to attend each of their gender's session, if the participant is required to leave we ask they inform their Head Coach at the start of the day.

What if they can't make one of the days?

Registration is for the "whole" of the camp. We can make allowances for participants unable to attend certain days however, Volleyball Queensland are not in a position to refund partial entry costs.

Will I know if my child has been accepted?

When you complete the nomination form, your place is confirmed! An information email will be sent to all participants prior to the start of the camp.

When do they need to be there?

The first gender will need to arrive at 8.00 am ahead of an 8.30 am start on court.

The second gender will need to arrive at 9.30 am ahead of a 10.00 am start on court.

What do they do in between sessions?

In the sessions that they are not on the court, they will need to rest, rehydrate and refuel. We will have activities/information sessions planned for some break-times throughout the week. Whilst the participant's off-court will not be supervised one-on-one, there will be VQ staff and their coaching group around the venue.

What if they get injured?

There will be a Sports Trainer on hand to assess any injuries. If your child cannot complete the camp due to injury or illness, we will process a refund for the days missed. This process will happen after the camp. Please note; an administration portion of the fees will not be refunded.

What VQ registration do we need?

Each Volleyball Queensland event requires its participants to hold a current VQ Membership. Generally, VQ membership is valid until March of the following year in which it is obtained. E.g. membership obtained in Jan 2019 will expire in March 2020. VQ Development Camps require a Recreational membership. If you are unsure of your membership you can contact the VQ office, or you can select the Non-Members price when registering to obtain VQ Membership through the camp.
